

K-Love is a radio station that helps me in my walk with Christ. It lets me know that eventhough the world has bad things happening in it, people are still trying to correct the wrongs done. In my community, many people are not able to go to church or other christian functions because they lack transportation. This radio station makes God and other Christians accessable. The Christian faith does not just teach about the savior of the world; it teaches moral values and problem solving techniques that will help. Klove is an important asset to the community because it provide "positive and encouraging music that family hearers can listen to."
